"The Moving Finger Writes; And, Having Writ, Moves On"

FOREWORD

IF from reading these pages you are brought to a closer love for and loyalty to Pikeville High School;

IF from considering the accomplishments of your fellow-students herein set forth, you gain for them a more sympathetic understanding;

IF by turning these pages in after years, you prevail upon Time to reverse for an hour the passing of the seasons and return you in fancy to schoolday scenes—

THEN our efforts shall not have been in vain.

The Stoff

In appreciation of the fact that they play an indispensable and sometimes unheralded part in making possible our city's free public school system to train the youth of today for capable citizenship tomorrow, this volume is dedicated to the taxpayers of Pikeville.

The Senior Pocomplishments

Since the opening of school on September 6, the Seniors have been more or less hard at work, both on their school subjects, and in their extracurricular activities.

One of the initial acts of the year was the election of class officers—Harold Rogers, President; Lester Stone, Vice-President; and Rex Cheek, Secretary and Treasurer.

After much discussion and deliberation, the Seniors decided to buy their rings from Harcourt and Company, of Louisville, and their invitations from Herff-Jones of Indianopolis.

Six Senior boys, Charles McKinney, Columbus Norris, Malloy Clark, Norvil Spears, Jack Cox, and Rex Cheek, formed an integral part of the Panther football machine. Bobby Ballard was manager.

The candidates for Queen at the Halloween Carnival from the two senmor rooms were Christine Justice and LaRue Rowe.

Columbus Norris, Malloy Clark, and Charles McKinney finished their high school basketball careers by helping the team make a brilliant record. Jack Cox contributed his part as manager.

Five Seniors entered the scholastic examinations which are held each year. These students were: Jo Wanda Tune, chemistry; Herbert Harper, general business; Norma Lewis, shorthand; Berniece Ford, bookkeeping; and Harold Rogers, general scholarship.

Rex Check received the medal given for the best essay written on "The Achievements of William Crawford Gorgas and Their Relation to Our Health."

Harold Rogers, editor of the Black Diamond, descrues a great deal of commendation, according to Mr. Sanders, for his initiative, and for his steady devotion to the work of producing the yearbook.

BOYS

REX CHEEK

Rex first entered the Pikeville school system as a seventh grader in 1932. In 1934, he entered the high school as a freshman.

He is seventeen years of age, six feet in height, has blue eyes and curly hair, and weighs 124 pounds.

His favorite hobby is radio science. The sport he is most interested in is football. He was on the football team during the season of 1937-38, and was voted to be the member of the squad who tried the hardest. He is also a lover of basketball.

Rex served the Junior Class as President last year, and this year's Senior Class as Secretary. In addition, he has this year been editor of the Pike Hi News. One of his accomplishments was to win a medal for his essay, "The Achievements of William Crawford Gorgas and Their Relation to Our Health Today."

When asked what he thought about girls, Rex said, "Some are O. K." Concerning teachers, he remarked, "They are all O. K. as far as I know, but I am glad to give my place to someone else."

Rex is not afraid of work, taking five subjects each year he has been in high school, and making A's on most of them.

We are confident of his success in his chosen profession-medicine.

MARVIN BUEFORD SWORD Second

Marvin came to our school for the first time as a freshman in 1934. From the start, he has made good use of his time, making the honor roll every term—a remarkable record. He represented P. H. S. in physics in the Scholastic Contest in 1937.

He is eighteen years old, five feet, ten and one-half inches in height, weighs 135 pounds, and has black hair and gray eyes.

A quiet, studious, unassuming boy, Marvin is well-liked by the students and faculty.

When pinned down as to what he really thinks about girls, he admitted he doesn't give "two hoots" for them. He says that, on the whole, the teachers here are satisfactory.

Marvin's hobby is photography. His favorite sport is fishing. We understand he holds the pole between his bare toes and sleeps between bites.

His plans for the future have not as yet crystalized, but he rather thinks he will follow a technical college course. Whatever he does, he will do it well.

GIRLS

JO WANDA TUNE

Commonly known as Jody by her classmates, Jo Wanda is no common person in any sense. She is seventeen years old, has blonde hair and gray eyes, is five feet, six inches tall, and weighs 110 pounds.

Before coming to Pikeville, Jo Wanda attended the Clark County High School, Winchester, Kentucky, entering Pikeville High School as a junior in 1937. Her high school record is indeed outstanding. She has been a member of the French Club, Girl Reserves, Needlecraft Club, Pep Club, Bible Study, and the Black Diamond staff. She represented the Chemistry Department in the Scholastic Tests this year.

"I hate the doggone stuff," she said, when asked if she liked school. We are inclined to believe, however, that she was speaking in jest. In a weaker moment she admitted that she would like to be back next year when the basketball team goes to State. We don't wonder! Just think of a certain Senior-to-Be who will be on that team. As Jody would say, "Boy-ee!" She says she likes all her teachers, and that boys are all right, at times.

Her favorite sport is swimming, and she enjoys music very much, especially swing music.

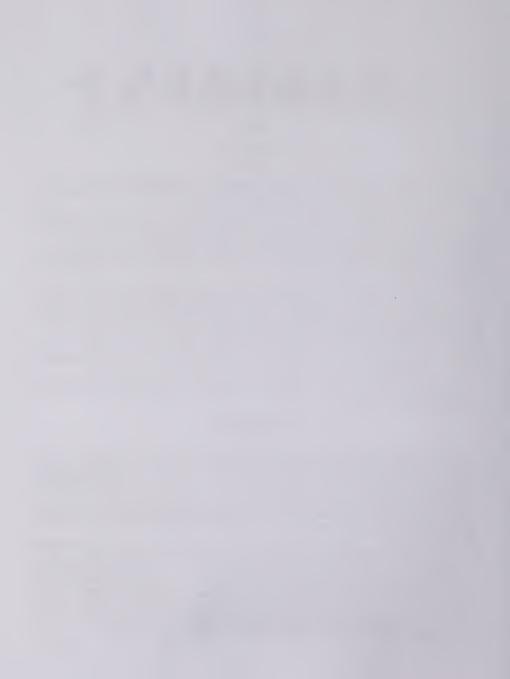

. Jo Wanda wants to be an interior decorator, and with her brains she can be a good one.

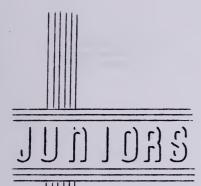

NORMA LEWIS Second

Norma Lewis entered Pikeville High School as a sophomore from Buena Vista Junior High School of Nashville, Tennessee. During her three years here, she has made an enviable record in every way. She is a member of the French Club, Pep Club, Girl Reserves, Needlecraft Club, and Bible Study. She has served well on the Pike Hi News and Black Diamond staffs. She won first honors in the District Music Festival. Her musical talents are also clearly shown by her insisting on composing songs in the dormitory. She represented the shorthand class in the Scholastic Tests.

Norma was eighteen last April 21, is five feet, five and one-half inches in height, weighs 118 pounds, and has brown hair and eyes. Her favorite sport is tennis. When asked what she thought about school, she replied, "I just love to go to school." As far as boys go, she says, "I don't like the boys." (Of course, we understand what she means.) She likes all her teachers. Norma answers to the name of Leo, and is forever saying, "I believe you, but it's notthetruth."

As yet she hasn't definitely decided what she wants to be, but thinks that perhaps she will be a journalist.

Junion Decomplishments

The officers of the Junior Class are Harlan Cooke, President; Mildred Fields, Vice-President; Vivian Kaminski, Secretary; and Imogene Harrison, Treasurer.

The Junior Class is proud to number among its membership many of the scholastic leaders of the school. Not only has the class been well represented on the honor roll each term, but the following were selected to represent P. H. S. in the scholastic contests: Joe Thornbury, physics; Ione White, English; Pett Lemon, European history; Theo Hurley, second-year Latin; Edward Pruitt, algebra; Imogene Harrison, civics; Virginia Pineur, typing; and Coolidge Blackburn, American history.

The Juniors won the class basketball tournament. James A. Damron was awarded a gold basketball for being the best foul shot in the Regional Basketball Tournament. Junior Wiggins also received a basketball for making the All-Tournament team. Other Juniors receiving letters in basketball were Elza Newsom, Harlan Cooke, Vernon Blankenship, and Edward Pruitt. Bradford Runyon, James Smith, Joe Thornbury, and William Ewers were on the squad.

The following football letter men were Juniors: James A. Damron, Edward Pruitt, Harlan Cooke, Junior Wiggins, Vernon Blankenship, and Joe Thornbury. Brodford Runyon, tackle, was also a member of the squad.

Ione White won first place in the poetry contest in the District Speech Tournament at Paintsville; Eugene Ramsey, third place in high school discussion; and James Smith, fourth place in oratorical declamation.

Three Juniors, Ione White, Billie Marie Nestor, and Bettye Maynard, were on the debating team.

Ione White and Pett Lemon were two members of the winning trio at the music festival.

Theo Hurley contributed a great deal to the Pike Hi News and to the Black Diamond, and is slated for the editorship of the Pike Hi News for next year.

The Sophomore Class roll contains the names of a ,ood number of student leaders. These trail-blazers have aided much to the success of the school _ear of 1937-38.

The victories of the debatin, teamwere due in part to the fine work of Bettye Maynard and Dixie Mae Nichols. With two years of high school jet before them, these two will doubtless give opposing teams some real competition.

Joyce Sanders has done outstanding work in the field of public speaking.

Margaret Ann Scott was elected last fall to be Queen of the Halloween Carnival.

Joan Childers, Ethel Hobson, Jack Robinson, and Joyce Sanders represented the high school in the annual Scholastic Tests.

Forrest Wiggins, Roland Wright, Bradford Runyon, James Thompson, Wallace Friend, and Tom Green played on the football squad. Of these, two, Forrest Wiggins and Wallace Friend, made letters.

Forrest Wiggins, Homer Maynard, and Bradford Runyon upheld the honor of the Sephomores as basketball players. Wiggins and Maynard made letters.

Members of the Freshman Class have made worthwhile contributions to Pike Hi since their entrance in September, 1937. Their participation in the various activities of the school, their interest in class work, and their enthusiastic co-operation in all school undertakings--these things indicate a group of seniors three years hence that any school would be proud to claim.

Two first-year boys, James Cook and John Edward Caudill, won their letters in football. Billy Trivette, Clarence Damron, and Charles Damron were on the squad. We expect to hear from all these later.

Brooke Scott made the debating team. With such a splendid start, what a debater she will be in a year or two!

Russell Warden, Jo Marie Roop, Eloise Rogers, Marrionette Sowards, and Lorraine Justice are among the outstanding freshmen scholastically, making especially high grades. A number of others are very good.

Under the leadership of Miss Rebeoca Lewis, a group of freshmen, Eva Ruth Sanders, Marrionette Sowards, Nelle Ruth Norris, Wilda Riley, Eloise Rogers, and Audrey Lee Ford, put on a play, Too Many Marys. We are glad to have these up-and-coming young dramatists.

NEW HOBBY CLUB PROGRAM

A new and ambitious hobby club program has been tried at Pikeville High School this year.

Sixteen different clubs have been organized, each under the sponsorship of a member of the faculty.

Every student has been required to join one of these organizations. The choice has been left up to each individual, since it was desired that he be very much interested in the one chosen.

The clubs have met during the activity period on Wednesday of each week.

Here is a list of the clubs and their sponsors: Art, Miss Irene Syck; Commercial, Mr. London A. Sanders; Current History, Mrs. Merle Catlin; Dramatic, Miss Rebecca Lewis: First Aid, Mr. Cassius B. Hatcher; Glee Club, Miss May Kautz; Home Nursing, Mrs. Joe Vicars; Junior Auto Mechanics, Mr. Hirsil Johnson: Nature Study. Mrs. C. C. CHEER LEADERS

The Cheer Leaders for 1938 were Catherine Smith, President; Pett Lemon, Vice-President; and Margaret Ann Scott, Secretary and Treasurer. They have shown much fighting spirit during the past season.

During the latter part of the season they gave a banquet, backed by the Pep Club, in honor of the basketball boys. Catherine Smith was awarded a certificate showing a letter award.

We can truthfully say that they are worthy of their position and have kept the school colors flying high. Rah! Rah! Lemon, Smith, and Scott!!

The Pikeville team made a good showing this year, losing only six out of its thirty-six debates, and winning the County Tournament at Pikeville College on March 18. Two of the team, Bettye Maynard and Dixie Nichols, were placed on the all-tournament team, and they were also chosen as the outstanding speakers of the tournament.

Though the Pikeville team was defeated in the district finals by the Wayland team, it amassed enough points to help the other entrants win the district championship in speech.

ATHLETICS

FOOTBALL REVIEW

Although the 1937 football season was not quite so successful as the preceding two, the Pikeville Panthers performed well, and had one of the best-coached, best-working, and hardest-hitting teams in this section of the state. The Panthers scored 129 points to 65 for their opponents, making no allowance for the Whitesburg forfeit.

Hopes of winning first standing in the Big Sandy Football Conference were shattered by Paintsville. Pikeville High School is proud, nevertheless, of its football team for ranking second in this conference.

. The hard-working Panthers won their first game of the season by defeating the Alumni 13-6 on September 24.

With a final score of 0-26, the Panthers suffered their first defeat in two years, October 1, when beaten by the Whitesburg eleven. Never before had so many points been scored against a Pikeville Hatcher-coached team. It developed later, however, that Whitesburg played an ineligible man, and the game as a result was officially forfeited to Pikeville.

October 16, Pikeville trounced Kermit to the tune of 37-0.

On Saturday, October 30, the Panthers invaded Paintsville to be defeated by the Tigers 17-21.

In the night game with Logan, West Virginia, played there November 6, neither side scored; but the game was one of the most exciting of the season for the spectators, and was full of clean, hard football.

Smarting under the Paintsville defeat, the Panthers played a wonderful game against the Prestonsburg Blackcats November 20, coming out with the most first downs, most yardage, and the larger score.

In the last spame of the season, Wednesday, November 24, Pikeville gained a decisive victory over Ven Lear, the score being 42-0.

BASKETBALL REVIEW

The 1937-38 basketball season was a highly successful, yet not a perfect one, for the Pikeville Panthers and Coach C. B. Hatcher.

The Panthers lost only seven games out of twenty-two non-tournament contests; won four out of five games at the Round Robin held at Paintsville, Kentucky, December 21-22; won the Fifty-Seventh District Basketball Tournament at Elkhorn City, Kentucky, March 3-4-5; and were the runners-up at the Fifteenth Regional Tournament, Prestonsburg, Kentucky, March 10-11-12.

The Seniors who will never again carry the Maroon and White colors into battle are Charles McKinney, Malloy Clark, and Columbus Norris.

S E N I O R C L A S C WILL AND TESTAMENT S

We, the Senior Class of the Pikeville High School, of the city of Pikeville, county of Pike and state of Kentucky, being of sound and disposing mind and memory, do make, ordain, publish and declare this, our last will and testament, hereby revoking and annulling any and all will or wills by us made heretofore.

It is made a binding part of this will that in the event any person hereinafter named seeks through legal means to have any portion amended or set aside, said person's share of any property herein bequeathed or devised, real or personal or both, shall thereby be forfeited and shall be divided share and share alike among those abiding by the terms of the will.

We hereby appoint Miss Rebecca Lewis as the executrix of this, our last will and testament, and direct that she be allowed to serve without bond.

We bequeath and devise the following property because of our love and affection to the parties hereinister named and to their heirs and assigns forever.

ARTICLE | Bequests to Faculty

To Mrs. Smallwood, we bequeath all the bugs, toads, leaves, flowers, worms, figeons, snakes, and all other biological specimens in Pike County that she may see fit to bring in.

To Mr. Hatcher, we bequeath all the green freshmen boys with the hope that he can make a state-championship football team out of them.

To Mr. Sanders, we leave all the Lamage done to the typewriters in the business department, and all the paper stuck in and behind them.

To Miss Kautz, we leave a new glee club, trio, and quartette to replace the ones we wore out in chapel every Monday and Wednesday singing to ourselves.

To Miss Lewis, we bequeath all the chewing gum papers in our desks, which may easily be found by the dignified air that surrounds them.

To Miss Hendricks, we leave the many Shakespearean quotations which we never learned.

To Mrs. Compton, we leave the names written all over the "north" and "south" end libraries, and all the trash piled ankle-deep behind the books.

To Mr. Smallwood, we leave the quietness which we always showed in his

To Miss Scott, we leave our ability to always use discritical marks perfectly, to always avoid split infinitives, and our mastery of the science of diagramming.

To Mrs. Howard, we leave all the gum which we constantly chewed in her

To Mr. Stritton, we leave our numerous inventions, excepting those hereinafter specifically bequeithed to the Juniors.

To Mrs. Vicars, we leave enough remnints to make a dress.

With many regrets, we leave Mrs. Catlin to her family so that she may train her husband for the State Oritorical Tournament.

ARTICLE II

Bequests to Classes

The Seniors, remembering well their shyness and timidity of four years ago, leave to the incoming Freshmen the poise, self-confidence, and brass that only four years of high school training can impart.

To the Sophomores of next year, the Seniors leave all the knowledge to which said Sophomores will be exposed during their remaining three years in high school. Nost of this will be brand-new, not having been suspected, assimilated, or used in any form whatsoever by the outgoing Seniors.

To the Juniors of next year, the Seniors leave all their patents and copyrights to methods and formulas for successfully evading home work, cutting classes, and fooling the teachers. The Juniors-to-Be have made progress in these arts in their own right, and aided by this bequest, they should display real skill another year.

To the Seniors of '39, we devise the only real property we own; namely, a few choice seats in the after-school study hall, title to which has legally passed to us because of long and undisputed possession.

ARTICLE III Bequests to Individuals

Marvin Sword leaves his intelligence to Joe Thornbury.

Bruce Pinson leaves his ability for cutting classes to Woodrow Anderson who can ably carry forward.

Charles McKinney doesn't leave Vivian to anyone if he can help himself.

Jo Wanda Tune leaves her habit of making perfect scores in chemistry to anyone who can keep the pace she has set.

Norma Lewis leaves "Tricky" to another Wright Hall girl, for it seems they are preferable to all others.

Jack Cox leaves his study halls and laziness to Whetchel McKinney.

Norvil Spears leaves a great record in football to Jee Thornbury.

"Cobb" Ballard presents his nickname to C. B. where its rightful owner should keep it.

Mary Ratliff bequeaths her shy disposition to Anne Owens.

Christine Justice leaves her ability to play the piano to Pett Lemon.

"Pintsy" Childers leaves his driving speed to the Highway Patrol, which needs it more than he does. He doesn't leave his talking speed to anyone as no other custom-built gear box is available.

Harold Rogers leaves his senior class presidency to whoever may be duly elected.

Ruster "K" Norris of necessity wills Ione to Wiggie.

Rex Cheek leaves his editorship of the Pike Hi News to Theo Hurley who already knows how it is done.

Jo Wanda Sanders wills her daintiness and femininity to Betty Sisk.

Lou Moore has already willed the Whiffenfuffle--Ah me! those were the days.

Onsby Johnson leaves his red hair to June Fkwler who has a good start.

Buford Prater leaves his winning ways with the girls to Forrest Wig-

Charlotte Hopkins leaves her quaint disposition to Mary Evelene Ramsey.

Quella Justice leaves her well-groomed appearance to Orlena Smith.

Messrs. Norris, McKinney, Spears, Cox, Cheek, and Clark leave the aptroaching football season to all those who are worthy of carrying the colors. The above-mentioned, excluding Cox and Cheek, leave their ability to get into the state basketball tournament next year to the class of '39. (From the looks of our class tournament, they can bear the load with a grin.)

Nell Mona Cassidy bequeaths her height to Mildred Fields.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, we have hereunto set our hands and seal this twentieth day of May, nineteen hundred and thirty-eight.

Red Cheeke Secretary

We, the undersigned, hereby certify that the testator, the Pikeville High School Senior Class, made, ordained, published and declared the above instrument, consisting of five pages, to be its last will and testament and in our presence signed the same, and we at its request and in its presence and sight, and in the presence and sight of each other hereby sign the same as witnesses thereto, believing the said Pikeville High School Senior Class to be of sound and disposing mind and memory and about the age of seventeen years.

J. Raud Corpton, Erg.

SENIOR PROPHECY CLASS PROPHECY

Mr. Columbus Norris, traveling salesman for the Eureka Book Supply Company, leaned heavily on the doorbell of a large and rather prosperous-looking house.

"Is the lady of the house at home?" he inquired as the door was opened by a tall, lean butler, and then he gasped. He knew the man!

"LESTER STONE," he half whispered. And then louder, "I haven't seen you in twenty-five years!"

By this time the butler had recovered from his own amazement, but he had no sooner opened his mouth to speak than from behind him came another voice: "Is it someone to see me. Stone?"

Mr. Norris received another shock, for it was another of his old class-mates, Marie Thornbury. The result was that almost before he realized what was happening, the salesman found himself inside in an easy chair, recalling old times, and drinking tea. Before him was a well-worn copy of the 1938 Black Diamond. As he turned the pages, he suddenly paused and queried, "What ever became of Louise Butler?"

Marie looked up and replied, "I saw her just last week. She's in New York, managing one of the largest hotels."

"What do you think of Flora Howell? She is one of the highest-paid actresses in Hollywood. And Joe Ramey seems to be going places in television."

"And Emily Eargle! Think of being married to that millionaire polophyer, Burwell Van Ratliff. Oh! I almost forgot. While in New York, I saw Lou Moore singing in the night club which Onsby Johnson is managing."

"I saw Rex Cheek a few days ago," went on the salesman. "He is at Yeager, you know, and is making quite a name for himself as a beautician. And, believe it or not, Mary Elizabeth Ratliff has a frog farm just outside of Pike-ville.

"They tell me that Christine Justice has become an evangelist and is touring the country."

"You know, it's queer how things turn out. Katheryn Smith always liked music, and now she and Buford Prater are just wandering street singers."

"Yes, and Bill Williamson is the dog catcher of South Pikeville, and Robert Call is working for his uncle as grave-digger. But I've lost touch with several of our classmates. I haven't seen or heard of Berniece Ford since we graduated."

"Why she is telling fortunes in Malloy Clark's circus," said Marie; and Charles McKinney is there, too. He is the horse doctor."

"Several of them have done well in politics. Blake Biliter is Vice-President, and Bobby Ballard will be appointed to the Supreme Court if his enemies don't succeed in proving that he was a member of the Boy Scouts.

"Speaking of politics, I hear that Lawrence Smith is High Sheriff of Pike County, and that Junior Ratliff is Jailer."

Not to be outdone, Columbus put in, "Bill K. Sowards is the new principal of the Northside High School."

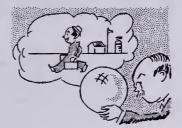

Further conversation along this line was suddenly brought to a halt. From the radio-television set, which had been softly playing the music of Jack Cox and his orchestra, blasted the voice of the announcer, Ernest Huffman, saying that Marvin "Popgun" Sword, notorious racketeer, had been captured by Perry Justice, ace G-Man, and that his wife, Charlotte, who had been held, had been released.

This announcement, however, did not dampen their spirits for long. "I was in California last year," said Columbus, "and while there I stopped to see Herbert Harper at his monkey ranch. The first afternoon, he accidentally got locked up in one of the had a time telling which is working for DuPont as blown up their Wilmingcut in Columbus. "Helen career as a magazine ilis ushering at the Liberty Theater in Pikeville; and Emmalene Steele has become a nun."

Just then the doorbell buzzed, and Stone announced another visitor. It was no one but Ernest Boardman, working for the government as census taker, and who, for some reason, spent a great deal of time calling on Marie. He was soon dragged into the conversation, and was able to account for several of his old classmates. "Robert Damron," he said, "is sports editor of the New York Sun. Irene Leslie is driving a taxi; Ivory Meade is a piano tuner; Reva Gilliam is doing time for counterfeiting; and Olva Mae Runyon is an astrologer."

"Nell Mona Cassady is an outstanding bridge player," said Marie; "Jack Childers is a tobacco planter; and Reba Hale is in charge of Wright Hall."

Ernest, by this time, had gotten into the spirit of the thing, and started again. "Golda Salisbury and Ruth Ratliff are working as models at Saks Fifth Avenue in New York. Edith Adkins is in New York, too, singing at the Metropolitan Opera House. Oralee Williams and Mary Lee Kells are somewhere in Africa, if the cannibals haven't gotten them. Eleanor Blackburn is a missionary in China, and Faith Runyon will probably get the Pulitzer Prize for her latest novel. Thelma Runyon inherited a large sum of money, and is traveling in Europe."

Columbus, never noted for lack of wind, took up the torch again. "I saw Billy Daily the other day. He had just returned from his non-stop round-theworld flight. Daniel Lemon is a barber--you know he always was good at hog killing time; and Helen Campbell is a sign painter. Norma Lewis and her husband, Ray Thacker, are living in Chicago."

Marie had been watching for an opening and now said, "Junior Elswick is a lawn mower salesman in the Sahara Desert, and Harold Rogers has been confined again. He thinks he is Hannibal, and insists on riding an elephant."

"Jo Wanda Sanders is an undertaker, and Shelbert Maynard is a heavy-weight wrestler," said Ernest.

Again Marie slipped in. "Marion Ford is a bookkeeper for some big concern in San Francisco."

This ended the conversation, as Mr. Norris had to get back to work. He calculated that if he sold six more books, he could afford a hamburger for supper.

FACULTY PROPHECY

It is now the year 1963. Who I am does not matter, except that I was a member of the Pikeville High School Class of 1938. Now, for the first time, I am making known to the public the results of my investigation of the former members of the faculty of that school. I believe these facts to be true in every detail, and I am prepared to supply documentary proof of most.

Mr. Oliver is now employed at Washington by the United States Department of Education.

Mr. Lowe is playing "Simon Legree" in the current movie production of "Uncle Tom's Cabin."

Miss Lewis is preparing to accompany an African expedition as trans-

Miss Syck is working with Walt Disney as animation technician.

Mrs. Compton is working in the Congressional Library in Washington.

Mr. Sanders has retired, and is living on the royalties from his automatic typewriter (invented after he tried to teach Robert Call to type).

Mrs. Howard has secured a position as secretary to Mr. Albert Einstein.

Miss Hendricks is playing Portia on the legitimate stage.

Mrs. Catlin is in Reno divorcing her eighth husband.

Mrs. Vicars has bought a clothing shop in Louisville.

Mr. Smallwood has turned politician (he always did lean that way) and is running for United States senator.

Mr. Hatcher is is charge of a finishing school for young ladies.

Mr. Stratton is in the hospital, recovering from wounds sustained in an explosion in the Pikeville High School laboratory.

Mrs. Smallwood is with Hagenbeck-Wallace as their snake-charmer.

Mrs. Hughes, Mrs. Ramsey, and Mrs. Meador are still teaching.
